RE: Release summary for Sally Newpatient

Dear Dr. Doogie Howser:

This is a letter to update you on the status of your patient Sally Newpatient, who was most recently evaluated in my office on 8/1/2017. This patient initially presented to my office on 6/11/2017 with cervical spine and elbow related symptoms. My initial diagnosis was cervical disc lesion and lateral epicondylopathy. Treatment included joint manipulation, therapy modalities, myofascial release, therapeutic exercise and traction.

The patient was treated a total of 9 times and has responded favorably. Currently, the patient reports approximately 95% overall subjective improvement. Objective findings have improved proportionately.

At this time, I feel that the patient has reached maximum therapeutic benefit and will be released to an as needed basis per your discretion. If I may provide any additional information, please call. Once again, thank you for allowing me to participate in the care of your patient.

Sincerely,

Dr. Tom Test
